Sample Press Release

Business Wire takes your original document, formatted with bold, italics, bullets, embedded links and other XHTML features, and adds all the elements you see here to create an attractive, web-friendly, interactive press release.

1. Your release headline and dateline provide key reference information, and your optimized headline appears in search engine and news results.
2. Business Wire supports news delivery in dozens of languages worldwide. Links provide fast access to translated versions of your press release.
3. Company Information Center provides links to your Company Profile, ExpertSource experts, news archive, stock information and more.
4. Track breaking news with the My Companies features. Future news alerts appear automatically in your My Companies portfolio.
5. Your downloadable logo provides added branding benefits, and links to your company website.
6. Time and date stamp identify when your news was transmitted. BusinessWire.com users can customize to their own time zones. Permalink allows web users to easily link to your press release.
7. NewsTrak Reach, Posting and Access reports provide valuable web posting links, viewership information and comparison data.
8. Business Wire source means your news originates from the most trusted and accurate commercial newswire in the industry.
9. Smart Multimedia Gallery provides one-click access to your photos and other multimedia in multiple resolutions, sizes and formats.
10. XHTML formatting and distribution provides attractive features that help your search engine optimization. Your release appears as-is at many downstream sites including Yahoo! Finance and Google News.
11. Contact information includes a live email link for media, investor and consumer inquiries.
12. Optional At A Glance box displays key company information and statistics.
13. Social media chiclets allow easy bookmarking and sharing among web users including journalists, bloggers and consumers. Readers can also create an RSS feed of your news.
14. Convenient links for readers to print or email your multimedia press release.
